“Charlie was the best little boy and big brother to his poodle sisters. He loved eating and chasing cats. Protected his sisters from angry cats and other dogs that might hurt them. For a teeny tiny doggy he was fierce in protect those he love. He followed me everywhere in the house. He always cried when I would have to leave. He was truly my sweetest little baby boy. He passed away painfree and comfortable thanks to his doggy hospise care, in my arms while rocking him. He left knowing just how much we loved him.
