She was abused and not taken care of at all by her first owners. Liz was the first of us to see her photo and say "that puppy...that one is mine."

I took Emmabear to meet her, as she was only three at the time. Ellie was pretty shy, didn't trust any men, but immediately took to Emma and me.

We got her, brought her home and that was it. The moment she met Liz, she followed her everywhere and always felt safe right next to her.

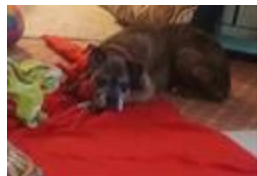

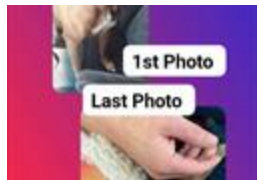

Never loud, never a pain, always chilled and the goofiest pupper ever. We love you forever Ellie Puppy.
