My lil girl Gigi was such a fighter....her spirit and her will to live never waivered....her body just couldn't fight anymore. That horrible tumor wouldn't stop getting bigger...but, as much pain and discomfort she experienced she was still so happy and alert...I miss my lil girl terribly....I especialky miss her kisses ..her bark...her sassy lil self ..she played and barked till then end. She took a piece of my heart...I know she's playing at rainbow bridge with her daddy Julius...Chloe ...Snowy and Ginger...rest sweet girl...mommy luvs you more than words can describe...you definitely left paw prints on my heart that will never go away or be replaced....
