“ I'm going to miss feeding G his lockable treats and holding him like a newborn baby. He loved those treats so much. I spoiled my boy. Every time I would go to the store he got a new toy, treat and all different kinds of wet food so he would have a variety. His favorite was Sheba Chicken and salmon. He loved onions! If we were eating something with raw onions like hotdogs, he would beg like a dog and wanted some. He was so smart opening my bread draw and my cupboard in the early morning excited about what he was getting to eat that day. He was so affectionate, purring constantly. Such a happy Lil boy. I miss him so so so much. I didn't have enough time with him. I feel so very sad. The crazy thing is that his mother gave birth the very same day he passed and had 5 boys. They all look like him but he's irreplaceable. One of a kind.
