

Henry Dickey

December 16, 2020

Henry Baum-Dickey, hatched in 2009 died on Friday, December 11, 2020 at the age of 11. Henry died peacefully and surrounded by his family when he succumbed to the illness that has no cure, old age. He leaves behind his family, Jeremy Baum, Angela Dickey and Baine "Athena" Dickey". Henry became a man of many names during his time; Beefcake, Beefer-man, Beefer-ham, Spikey Little Cherub, and Dreamboat are just a sampling. He came into our lives after Angela saw a craigslist ad in July 2010. After consulting with Jeremy, who did not think a bearded dragon was needed, a decision was made, and Angela and Baine picked up "Butch" while Jeremy was sleeping. Henry was an ambassador for the species of Pogona vitticeps, though we never expect to meet another to equal his charm and personality. We will forever miss his head bobs as a greeting, the magnificent push ups that he did to show off that were so enthusiastic you could hear his chest slap the floor, and his waddle run through the apartment to "secure the perimeter" ensuring that there were no other dragons in his territory. Henry was king of his domain, a gentleman, and our friend. We will miss you forever Henry, you have left a Beefcake sized hole in all of our hearts.
