

Lily Roos

August 9, 2017

She grew up with her 2 human sisters Rachel & Lauren, here in our home ever since the day we brought her home December 19, 2003. Lily also left behind her furry feline sister Sophie and put up with her clumsy big younger canine brother Mikoto, whom was constantly stepping over/on her with his big shepherd paws (he misses you Lily). Lily you brought so much love, joy and companionship into our lives in the all too short 13+ years we called you ours. And you never once barked for anything in return, just a few little treats here and there. So as you cross over the rainbow bridge onto the other side, run free our sweet little Lily, frolic in those beautiful green fields with your cute little chubby Corgi legs, chase the butterflies & bark to your little hearts content! You will always be right here in our hearts

*Dear Lily,
I've been so wrapped up in finals week... stressed out wishing you were here to give me cuddles. As I was studying, i looked at a* picture of you in front of me and for some reason I started to tear up. Then I went to your urn and stood there looking at more of your pictures missing your smiling little face., and kissing your urn goodnight before going to bed. I miss you my sweet angel girl. See you in my dreams. I love you xoxo

It was a beautiful day outside today sunshine and warm weather.. you would've loved it. I thought of you.. I always do. I miss you. Next month I know it will hit me hard all over again knowing its been a *year since you've crossed over the rainbow bridge. I love you my Lily girl, with all my heart. Sending kisses your way.

Love you ??*
