“ This little dog developed a habit of becoming a master escape artist after we moved n' always either went to go say hi to the neighbors or came scratching at the front door to be let back in, we loved this dog to hell and back and I just can't wrap my head around living without him, we'll all miss him so much.

“ little bit was the coolest dog It took him a minute to become friends with pap, rege and jj, but he clung to me as if I was his real mother. He got very close with my dad. And when dad lost his leg, he would go in next to dad's bed. He would kind of cry cause He wanted to sit on paps lap. So we would lift him up and we'd give dad a piece of cheese and he would Give the cheese to little bit. Dad would try to trick him and have the cheese in his other hand but you couldn't trick bitty, he knew where the cheese was, he had so much character for a little dog and we'll all miss him so much.
