

Nyx Rocchino

December 27, 2019 - August 26, 2025

Nyx was the embodiment of everything a Great Dane should be. Massive and strong yet elegant and gentle. Playful and energetic yet level headed and unwavering. Courageous and kind, she was a friend to all creatures both young and old. She was an unmatched protector and defender when duty called.

She will never be forgotten. My she rest in peace at the feet of the creator until we meet again.
