“ I'm going to miss him snoring so loud I had to wear ear plugs and kick him at night to stop snoring lol. Him being the last one out the bed. His weird bark and scratching at the door to let him in. His stinky breath and when he walks up to you and gives you 1 lick. His grunting when he plays. When he steals the cat food and picks up the can to take it to his mat. Him carrying the pot the same way. The way he would nip when Cali bit his ear. When Jay would sweeten him up. The way he wagged his tail when he was happy. He would shake his but and it looked like he was chasing his tail. The mess he made when eating and having to cut up his food so he wont choke. Splitting food between 2 dogs now Jay gets everything. Him starring at you waiting for food to drop. How he took over the big dog bed and Jay would be in the small one.
