“ He was the cutest little clumsy toddler tortoise! His little stubbly legs when he would do laps or the way they dangled off the rock when he would eat or drink. How he would fall asleep in the funniest positions, and especially his clumsy awkward eating where he would take big bites at something and not even get anything lol. He would often have grass stuck out of his mouth and generally just so happy and loving. I'll never forget the BIG hand waves as he would see us and turn around to come meet us ❤️ .
